INDIANA UNIVERSITY

BACKGROUND

A few words about Indiana University

Eight campuses

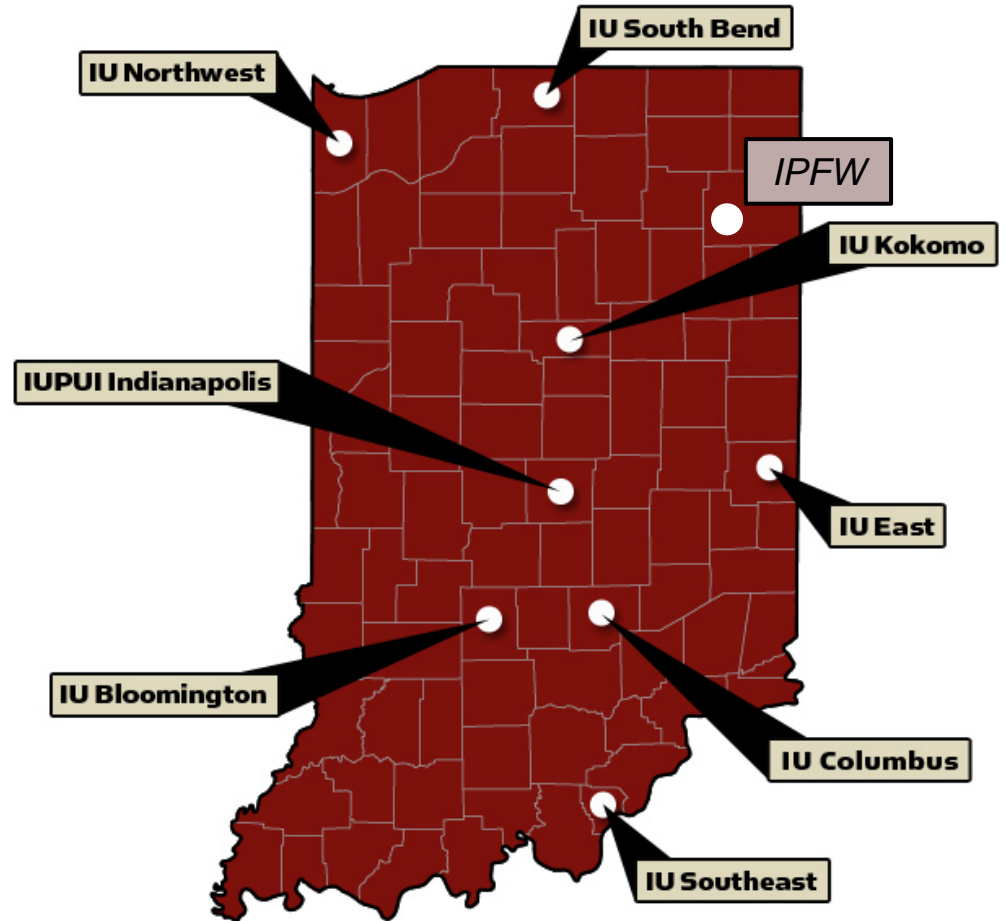

IUCAT – shared statewide online catalog
SirsiDynix Symphony ILS

System-wide request delivery

Diversity of collections (monographs, e-resources, loads of different media)

Statewide participation leads to a complex data environment:

- Who shares records? What records? How?
- Cataloging services provided to “extra-systems” libraries
- Vendor records
- Every format, language, call number scheme you can think of (well, maybe not every one)

Shared public interface

One-size-fits-all public interface has its costs

How to best serve all campuses and enable flexibility?

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Discovery Layer Selection

- Review took place in early 2011, candidate applications were Blacklight & VuFind
 - Tasked to IU Libraries OLE Discovery Layer Task Force
 - Either system judged able to fulfill baseline requirements
 - Reasons for choosing Blacklight
 - Exceptional flexibility
 - Development community
 - Report & recommendations available at:
<http://hdl.handle.net/2022/13621>

Implementation

- Work began in Summer 2011
 - public beta release in November 2012
 - just transitioned to Blacklight interface as primary entry point
 - Collaborative effort
 - Discovery Layer Implementation Task Force & subgroups
